Dissemination

Key information from this policy will be incorporated into the following documents where appropriate:

- Staff Handbook
- Teaching and Learning policy
- Monitoring of learning policy

Purpose of RSE Policy

This policy has been written as a statutory requirement and to:

- Give clear guidance to staff and outside visitors about the content, organisation and approach to teaching RSE
- Give information to parents and carers about what is taught and when
- Give parents and carers information about their involvement with RSE
- Give a clear statement on what the school aims to achieve from RSE and why it thinks RSE is important
- Clarify the content and manner in which RSE is delivered

How the Policy was developed

The school governors in consultation with pupils, staff, parents developed this policy as part of their statutory responsibility and carers and wider community partners e.g. school nurse and other health professional

Legislation

Guidance from the DfE under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017 makes Relationships Education and Health Education statutory in all Primary schools. This new guidance replaces the DfE Sex and Relationships Education Guidance from 2000. The guidance will become mandatory in September 2020.

Expectations on primary schools are as follows:

Relationships Education will be compulsory in all Primary Schools (or those pupils receiving Primary Education) – this includes academies, free schools and independent schools

Health Education will be compulsory in all Primary and Secondary Schools (or those pupils receiving Primary or Secondary Education) – this includes all academies and free schools but not independent schools as PSHE is already statutory in these schools.

Sex Education

The Department for Education continues to recommend that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the pupils. In addition to statutory science and the new statutory Relationships and Health Education (refer to point 10.5). We feel these lessons are important as they address many of the questions that children have and are taught in the context of healthy adult relationships.

As a school we will ensure our delivery only reflects our statutory duty. Chipping Hill will not extend our teaching beyond that defined by the PSHE association and the Department for Education.

Aims of RSE

- Develop confidence to talk, listen and think about feelings and relationships
- Address concerns and correct misunderstandings and be able to protect themselves and ask for help
- Develop skills to make and maintain positive relationships
- Develop positive attitudes and values and respect differences in opinions
- Develop a positive self-image and high self esteem
- Gain accurate knowledge and understanding about sexuality and relationships
- Develop personal responsibility for one's actions
- Know where to get confidential advice and support

Moral and Values framework

RSE will be delivered within the school's agreed aims, values and moral framework, which is sensitive to the needs and beliefs of pupils, parents / carers and other members of the school community. This will be delivered within the school's agreed equal opportunities framework.

Relationship and sex Education (RSE) supports and guides children and young people in lifelong learning about relationships, emotions, the human biology of sex and sexual health. Along with parents and carers, we help our young people to understand and manage their physical and emotional development in adolescence and prepare for the decisions to be made in adult life.

We believe that pupils should have accurate information that relates to their needs. They need help to explore their own feelings and attitudes, and those of society, in order to develop values on which to base decisions about relationships. They need to learn the communication skills necessary to help them take increasing responsibility for their own sexual behaviour.

RSE will, as far as possible, support the importance of marriage or stable relationships, for family life and bringing up children. Care is taken to ensure there is no stigmatisation of children based on their different home circumstances.

Thinking about morals and values also includes:

- Respect for self and others
- Non-exploitation in relationships
- Commitment, trust and love within relationships
- Honesty with self and others
- Self-awareness
- Exploration of rights, duties and responsibilities
- Understanding diversity regarding religion, culture and sexual orientation

Content and Organisation of the Programme

Groupings - Same Sex groupings and Single sex

Staff Involved -The course will be delivered by the Class Teacher and Head teacher where appropriate. It is important to note that where outside visitors help to deliver RSE they are not there to replace teachers but to enrich existing programmes by supporting the school.

Where taught - Dedicated PSHE lessons

Curriculum Content - DfE guidance and PSHE Association scheme of work

Science Curriculum

- The Changing Adolescent Body (Puberty)

How taught:

Teachers will set a group agreement with pupils to ensure that an atmosphere is created where pupils feel able to discuss concerns, feeling and relationships

It should be recognised that questions from pupils will be addressed and dealt with in the most appropriate manner and not disregarded. The form in which these questions are addressed may be in group activities, or on a one-to-one basis, as appropriate.

Resources will be assessed to ensure that they are appropriate to the age and maturity of pupils. They will take into account equality of opportunity through their use of language, cultural attitudes and images, avoiding stereotyping, racism and sexism.

In every section of the course a variety of teaching and learning styles are used where appropriate including videos, information sheets, pamphlets, visual aids and models, games and role-play. All resources utilised will be age appropriate, relevant to the topic and only as defined by the PSHE association and the Department for Education.

Being an Inclusive School

An acceptance that different faiths and beliefs should be tolerated and not be the cause for prejudicial or discriminatory behaviour.

The school has duties under the Equalities Act, British Values, and the Ofsted framework and must reflect British Law

Children are growing up in a diverse world and will need to be able to work, live and play with people from all backgrounds

Some pupils and staff will identify as LGBTQ+

Families can include single parent families, LGBTQ+ parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures

Some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers)

Meeting the Needs of SEND Pupils

These lessons need to be accessible to all pupils including those with special educational needs and disabilities. The SEND code of practice outlines the need for schools to prepare children for adulthood outcomes. These pupils can be more vulnerable to exploitation and bullying which means that sensitive and age-appropriate Relationships and Health Education is an essential part of their learning. We will ensure that our curriculum is accessible to all pupils by using appropriate resources, small group work and providing CPD for teachers.

Confidentiality Statement

The school will ensure that pupils know that teachers cannot offer unconditional confidentiality and are reassured that their best interests will be maintained. They will be reminded that if confidentiality has to be broken, they will be informed first and then supported as appropriate. They are encouraged to talk to their parents or carers and are provided with support to do so

The school will ensure that staff understand that they cannot offer unconditional confidentiality to pupils. They will work within the school's confidentiality policy agreed procedure for recording and reporting disclosures and the nature of access to this information.

Assessing RSE and Monitoring the Programme

The RSE Lead will be responsible for:

Ensuring the policy and programmes are implemented as agreed

Supporting staff to assess pupils progress

Recommending targets for whole school development

Evaluation of the programme will be made by assessing, the attitudes of the pupils, the development of their personal skills and the knowledge and understanding they have gained. Review forms part of the content and is an ongoing process. The views of pupils, staff and parents will be sought and taken into account as the programme develops and changes.

Teachers' Responsibilities

To reassure parents/carers, pupils and governors that the personal beliefs and attitudes of teachers will not influence the teaching of RSE, all those contributing to the programme are expected to work within the aims listed above.

Training staff to deliver RSE

It is important that staff delivering RSE work within the values framework of this policy and feel confident, skilled and knowledgeable to deliver effective RSE. Continuing professional development will be provided through a range of options: individual study and development/ in- house CPD/ external training courses. Training could include:

What to teach and when

- Leading discussions about attitudes and values
- Information updates
- Practicing a variety of teaching methods
- Facilitating group discussions
- Involving pupils in their own learning
- Managing sensitive issues

Engaging Parents/Carers and the Right to Withdraw from Sex Education

On entry to the school, parents are invited to read the RSE policy. This helps to establish consultation and a partnership with parents, which reinforces the dual responsibility for RSE learning. Parents are kept informed about the content of the programme and will be invited to a meeting at school to view the resources

Up until September 2020 parents have a right to withdraw their child from those aspects of Relationships and Sex Education that are not included in the statutory science curriculum. From September 2020 Parents have the right to withdraw their child from Sex Education (as outlined above). From September 2020 parents do not have the right to withdraw their child from lessons on Relationships or Health Education or the Science Curriculum.

We place the utmost importance on sharing equal and joint responsibility with parents/carers for their children's education, including sexual matters. We do our best to find out from them any religious or cultural views they may have which may affect the PSHE they wish to be given to their children, although we would consider carefully any request that compromised our equal opportunities policy.

We will take every opportunity to inform and involve parents/carers:

By making our commitment clear in the school handbook/brochure

By inviting parents/carers to discuss personal development when their child enters the school

By inviting parents/carers to a meeting to discuss RSE in the school.

Parents of year 6 children have a right to withdraw their children from the 'sex education' elements of RSE lessons (as outlined in point 7). If a parent wishes to withdraw their child from Sex Education we ask that they discuss it with the Head Teacher and then a request for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 1 of this policy and addressed to the Headteacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

Answering pupils' questions

We encourage curiosity in children as it is an important part of their learning and children ask questions related to RSE both in and outside of lessons. This means that children who are withdrawn from a lesson may also ask a question in relation to RSE outside of the lesson time. We feel it is important to answer questions honestly, with factual information and in an age appropriate way. If we have a concern with regards to safeguarding due to the nature of a question we would follow our safeguarding procedures. Children who don't have their questions answered may look to other sources for information, such as the internet.
